

BRESLIN & BRESLIN

BERGEN COUNTY ACCIDENT ATTORNEYS

For close to eight decades, clients in Bergen County and northern New Jersey have relied on Breslin & Breslin to help resolve accident claims. Known statewide for their integrity and results, the firm's lawyers have a number of ground-breaking recoveries to their credit.

Donald A. Caminiti heads up the firm's personal injury practice. Certified in civil trial advocacy by the National Board of Trial Advocacy and by the American Board of Trial Advocates, veteran trial attorney Caminiti was named to the Top 10 on the New Jersey Super Lawyers list for the second time. He has appeared in the Top 100 every year since 2005.

For more than 30 years, Caminiti has practiced plaintiffs' personal injury and medical malpractice law, recovering millions of dollars on behalf of his clients. His integrity and accomplishments, including a recent $6.3 million medical negligence recovery for a surgical error, are widely recognized in metropolitan New York and New Jersey.

In addition to his practice, Caminiti often conducts seminars on topics ranging from litigation techniques to legal responsibility and liability. Caminiti has also authored publications on dangerous products litigation and recovery for emotional distress. He was one of six attorneys that the state of New Jersey selected to represent it in its lawsuit against big tobacco, which resulted in a $7.4 billion recovery.

Given the extent of his expertise and experience representing people seriously harmed as a result of the careless conduct or neglect of others, Caminiti is sensitive to the emotional suffering such trauma often causes. He understands the need for strong, effective advocacy.
